Money

Our class has been discussing whether money is the most important thing, some children say it’s the most important thing and others don’t.

Some students say money is the most important thing because money can buy you security such as housing. Money can also buy you education such as textbooks.

Some students disagree that money is the most important thing they say you don’t need money for happiness and love. Plus money can’t buy you determination to get fit.

Our class decided that money is not the most important thing.

Our class

Money can buy you security

Friends

Money can’t buy you happiness

Money can’t buy love

Marriage

Money can’t buy determination

Fitness

Money is the most important thing in life

Housing

School books

Money can buy you education

Money can buy you clothes

Jumper
Our class has been discussing whether money is the most important thing, some children say it is the most important thing and others don't.

Some students say money is the most important thing because money can buy you security, for example, housing. Money can also buy you an excellent education such as books and textbooks.

Some students disagree that money is the most important thing they say you don’t need money for happiness and love. Plus money can’t buy you determination to get fit.

Our class decided that money is not the most important thing.

Teacher observations

This student produced and a first draft which was presented to the teacher for editing before the final typed copy was produced.

Sascha has demonstrated basic knowledge and understanding of the content and text type. Some progress from the mind-map to the draft and final copy has been shown, and a conclusion has been presented but there is no justification of viewpoints. Basic desktop publishing skills have been demonstrated but the text could be improved with the use of more complex sentences and the substantiation of ideas.

Sascha’s response demonstrates characteristics of work typically produced by a student performing at a grade D standard.