Grade Commentary

Mel has demonstrated basic knowledge and understanding of the structure and features of an information report. Information has been gathered and structured using appropriate headings but the report lacks a clear introduction. The purpose and audience of the text have been considered but the information has not been presented in sequential order. The report begins well and contains some detail and technical terminology but is inconsistent. The writing lacks fluidity due to errors in expression and grammar. Words have been omitted and some plurals have been inappropriately used. Limited strategies have been used to spell words, punctuate and structure sentences. There is little evidence of editing but basic competence in desktop publishing is evident.

Mel's response demonstrates characteristics of work typically produced by a student performing at a grade D standard.
