Grade Commentary

Rania has demonstrated a thorough understanding of the content and features of a literary recount. Events have been recounted in sequential order but the orientation is brief and time connectives have not been used. Simple and complex sentences have been included, and there is good use of prepositions. Punctuation has been effectively used, and there is some experimentation with inverted commas to indicate direct speech. There is evidence of proof reading, and a range of strategies has been used to spell most words correctly. To improve, Rania could use adjectives and adverbs to add detail and include time connectives to sequence events.

Rania's response demonstrates characteristics of work typically produced by a student performing at a grade B standard.
